The program will be free to the public, and no registration is required.

AUTHOR JASON BRUBAKER EVENT

We are so excited to welcome author and artist Jason Brubaker to our library this month for a program! He will be here on Thursday, October 11th from 6:30-7:30 to present his talk and workshop "The Power of Personal Projects". Please join us!

Jason Brubaker is the author of graphic novels reMIND and Sithrah, as well as the nonfiction book Unnatural Talent. In 2015, he threw caution to the wind and quit a well-paying, coveted job at Dreamwork Animation to pursue self-publishing comics, and so far it has been working out great. He enjoys brain transplantation, thinking about thoughts, and wrestling with religion. Someone once said he looks like Tom Cruise but he doesn't get it.

CREATIVEBUG CRAFTS & HOBBIES

Find your art with our new Creativebug database! Creativebug is full of videos and tutorials on all kinds of crafting and hobby subjects, made by artists and experts in the field. Creativebug has tutorials on everything from knitting to drawing to cake decorating. There are large collections of ideas, inspiration, and instructions to learn new skills. Sign in from our website under "Research Tools" with just your library card number. As always, feel free to ask us any questions either on the phone, 208-232-1263, or come in and speak to a librarian.

TEEN HALLOWEEN PARTY

Teens are invited to our newest afterhours party to celebrate Halloween and Day of the Dead with a Breakout game on Friday, October 26, from 6:30-8:00 pm. Jack-O-Lantern has been the King of Fall for years. But now, the Calavera is brighter, bigger, and bolder, and she is making Jack jealous. Can you save her from Jealous Jack's schemes? As always, you will be rewarded for breaking out with fun activities and plenty of treats. This activity is for teens in grades 6-12. Costumes are welcome!

FIRST GRADE FIELD TRIPS

Throughout the month of October, every first-grade student in School District 25 will be visiting the library on a field trip. We are so excited to welcome them to the library for their first experience here! We hope that they're just as excited to have a tour, hear some stories, and maybe even see some of the library's treasures.

Due to these field trips, daytime storytimes will be cancelled for the month of October. We will still have family storytime on Tuesday nights at 6:30 pm. We will also hold two special storytimes on Halloween, at 10 am and 1 pm. Children are welcome to wear their costumes and we will have a small parade around the library.

This month, we added
1,164 new items to our collection!
