Thanks for your cooperation and understanding!

Say hello
to... Jackie Wood

another incomparable member of the MPL team!

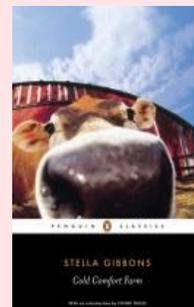

Jackie graduated with a Bachelor of Arts in English in 2009. As a Library Specialist, she enjoys helping patrons find great reading materials and being involved in the collection development process. Jackie readily shares her love of reading with her three beautiful boys and her husband, who is also an avid reader. Jackie's favorite part of working at the library and being a mother is helping young people find the perfect book, to come to love the written word and see the value it brings. In her spare time, Jackie finds herself reading a lot of children's fiction. She hopes to someday pursue a master's degree in library science and become a children's librarian.

COLD COMFORT FARM

by Stella Gibbons

FIC Gibbons, St

This is a fun book filled with satire. The characters are real, alive, and eccentric. They have names like Aunt Ada Doom and Judith Starkadder. Flora Poste is the protagonist, an orphan without much income. She decides to appeal to her distant relatives, whom she has never met, in hopes of living off of one of them. The results are interesting and hilarious, especially as there is “something nasty in the woodshed” at Cold Comfort Farm...

A very enjoyable read!

Make It, Take It Masks!

FUNCTION & FASHION FOR YOUR FACE!

Promoting public health, MPL has given out 70 mask kits since our opening on June 1st. Patrons have two style options for no-sew masks; for sewn masks they can choose from three different mask patterns. Cotton material is also provided with each kit. Lead Reference Librarian Kristy Lyon organized the project, Associate Director Trina Bonman donated the cotton, and Library Specialist Leslie Leukhardt donated cotton and hemmed mask-edges. Many other staff members donated t-shirts for no-sew masks. Just one of many ways we show we care!
